2. To network with more than 3,000 fundraisers from around the world
3. To be inspired and bring a renewed passion back to our workplace

THE 3 EDUCATIONAL SESSIONS* THAT I AM MOST INTERESTED IN ATTENDING ARE:

HERE IS ONE EXAMPLE OF A SUCCESSFUL FUNDRAISER THAT I CAN NETWORK WITH IN NEW ORLEANS:

“The International Fundraising Conference is one of the best ways to connect with and learn from experts in the field. I was inspired in so many ways, and left feeling more confident than ever. I can’t wait to make more connections with individuals committed to making our world a better place!”

Dustin F. Williams, CFRE
Associate Director of Development
Johns Hopkins University and Medicine

THE COST TO ATTEND THE CONFERENCE IS:

- Conference: _____ Based on official AFP pricing found at afpfc.com
- Hotel room: _____ Conference-approved hotel rooms start at $179 per night
- Travel: _____ Based on $0.545/mile (IRS Standard 2018) or standard airfare site

The cost of attending the International Fundraising Conference is a small price to pay for the benefits it delivers. Using the skills I gain at the conference to secure just one additional major gift, or a few more annual gifts, will pay for itself. That doesn't even include the priceless experience of expanding my network and learning organizational best practices from similar organizations worldwide.

If you are worried about my absence from the office for a few days, there will be Wi-Fi available throughout the conference, so I will only be a phone call or email away.

Upon my return, I will provide a full report of the most interesting sessions I attended, contacts I made, and new ideas that will benefit our team.
